

SPLIT: Drummer Nick Mason:

I don't need no Floyd gig

PINK Floyd drummer Nick Mason has dashed hopes of the iconic band ever playing live again, saying it would be too painful.

The 76-year-old admitted the "dormant" group could go on tour if guitarist Dave Gilmour wanted to.

He said: "I suppose all it needs in theory is for David to announce a Pink Floyd tour and that's it."

But Mason is not keen on the idea as it would highlight the absence of Roger Waters, 76, who quit in 1985 following repeated clashes with Gilmour, 74.

Asked if he wanted to play with the band again, he said: "Not particularly, because I think it would regenerate that sense of Roger not being part of it."

Pink Floyd, whose classic albums include The Dark Side of the Moon and The Wall, last played together in 2005 when Waters joined them at Live 8 in London's Hyde Park.

Since then, the band has released one album, 2014's Endless River, and Waters continues to play live as a solo artist.

STAR BURST
CASSIE and Simon Woods, from Shropshire, were stunned to see snaps from a camera they lost in the Caribbean sea posted online after a snorkeller found it.

£5k fine for ices cock-up

AN ice cream parlour that served a live cockroach in a customer's order has been fined £5,000.

Inspectors said Sprinkles Gelato in Portsmouth had "significant cockroach activity present in areas where food was being prepared, handled and stored".

The diner, part of a chain that boasts of using "only the best ingredients", admitted five hygiene raps.

City magistrates also ordered it to pay the customer £100 in compensation.

So are you Brit of a classic TV genius?

CLIFFHANGERS: Olivia Colman and David Tennant in crime hit Broadchurch. Inset, Tom Baker as Doctor Who

WIN britbox FOR ONE YEAR WITH OUR FUN TELLY TEASERS

★ BRITBOX has become the No.1 destination for Britain's best-loved TV. The streaming service, available across a whole range of platforms, boasts thousands of great shows from ITV, the BBC, Channel 4 and Channel 5 – all ad-free and with further programmes added every week.

★ And your Daily Star is giving away 10 year-long subscriptions, giving each of our winners 12 months of unlimited viewing.

Our bumper BritBox quiz celebrates the vast range of programmes subscribers can binge on, including comedy, drama, documentaries and classic soap.

★ For your chance to win, just email your 12 answers (A, B, C or D in each case), along with your FUNNY BUSINESS: The Office name, address and mobile number, to starcompetitions@dailystar.co.uk.

★ Entries will close at midnight on Monday, April 13. Full terms and conditions are at the foot of the page.

1: Heroes And Villains, an Only Fools And Horses Special on BBC 1, saw Del Boy dressed as...

(A) Superman (B) Spider-Man (C) Batman (D) Robin

2: Who did David Tennant play in ITV crime drama Broadchurch?

(A) DI Alec Hardy (B) DI Ali Miller (C) DI Olly Latimer (D) DI Olly Murs

3: BritBox features more than 600 classic Doctor Who episodes.

Which actor took over from the fourth Doctor, Tom Baker, in 1982?

(A) Colin Baker (B) Jon Pertwee (C) Peter Davison (D) Sylvester McCoy

4: To which country did Michael Palin travel for a Channel 5 documentary in 2018?

(A) Russia (B) North Korea (C) South Korea (D) China

5: Which character did Jessica Brown Findlay play in ITV's Downton Abbey?

(A) Lady Mary (B) Lady Sybil (C) Lady Edith (D) Lady Gaga

6: Which future Oscar-winner starred with Mitchell and Webb in Channel 4's Peep Show?

(A) Eddie Redmayne (B) Gary Oldman (C) Kate Winslet (D) Olivia Colman

7: To which European city did Coronation Street's Hayley travel to undergo gender reassignment?

(A) Copenhagen (B) Stockholm (C) Amsterdam (D) Berlin

8: Coming to BritBox later this year is a brand-new series of ITV's legendary satirical puppet show, Spitting Image. In the original, which ran until 1996, whose puppet had water constantly squirting from its eyes?

CLASS ACTS: Hits Downton Abbey and, left, The Inbetweeners

(A) Margaret Thatcher (B) The Queen Mum (C) Paul McCartney (D) Paul Gascoigne

9: In which fictional Cornish coastal village does ITV's Doc Martin practise?

(A) Portwell (B) Portwish (C) Portwenn (D) Portwhere

10: To which year did cop Sam Tyler find himself mysteriously transported in the first series of BBC1's Life On Mars?

(A) 1973 (B) 1984 (C) 1995 (D) 1066

11: Simon Bird, who played Will in The Inbetweeners, also stars in which other Channel 4 comedy?

(A) Friday Night Dinner (B) The Windsors (C) The IT Crowd (D) Derry Girls

12: Arriving on BritBox this week (April 9) is every episode of Ricky Gervais' The Office. In which Berkshire town is it set?

(A) Reading (B) Slough (C) Maidenhead (D) Ascot

BLASTS FROM PAST: From top, Life on Mars, Only Fools' Del & puppet satire Spitting Image

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

We are offering 10 prizes, each consisting of a 12-month Britbox subscription, worth £71.88. (Standard subscription is £5.99 monthly, contract-free, after a 30-day free trial.) Winners will be chosen at random from all correct entries. In the interests of fairness, a maximum of one entry per reader will be permitted. Winners will be contacted by email by midnight on Monday, April 20 and must respond by midnight on Monday, April 27 in order to claim their prize. Standard Daily Star rules apply (daily.star.co.uk/rules) and the Editor's decision is final. ITV is not responsible for the administration of this promotion.